OLD WILSONIANS FOOTBALL CLUB ‘All the News that’s fit to Print’

SEASON 2020/21 NEWSLETTER 6. No. 1,717.

Stupowfc@gmail.com

The School visited us with four sides this weekend, probably our most important fixtures of the season. Our club depends on engaging and retaining schoolboys offering Sixth formers games now and capturing boys so they return post University. This was our our chance to leave a lasting impression of OWFC and the OW Association on them. We did, thirty six (36) boys signed up indicating they would like to play for us, well done Chairman Alex and Committee members who met and greeted the boys whilst imparting the clubs ethos and tales of daring do.

The school have also reached the English Schools Cup final for the first time, please read a message from Head of Sport, Andy Parkinson. The Vice Presidents, Vets, Super Vets have already decided to sponsor a bespoke kit on behalf of OWFC for the final, which will be broadcast live on YouTube.

We also have an alternative view of last Sundays Super Vets game for the Kirk Benjamin trophy and include Mike Pike’s article on the club and Mental Heath provisions.

Message from Andy Parkinson, School Football Manager / Teacher.

The most successful Captain / Manager in OWFC history.

Hi All.

The School 1st XI have reached the ESFA National Cup Final for the first time in our history.

It is going to be played at Lilleshall on Thurs 15th Oct, 3:15 pm KO against Repton (who have been in the final the last 3 years!) The game will be live on you tube and I'll update with details once I get them.

I'm looking for someone to sponsor a cup final kit or warm ups tops etc. Do let me know ASAP if you can get any of your companies or businesses interested.

Thanks, Parky.

In response, OWFC Vets, Super Vets and Vice Presidents have offered to sponsor a bespoke kit for the final to the value of £500.00.

Details of the OWFC account to collect donations will be circulated securely.

Parky is also looking for sponsorship of a 'special' coach to take them to the final (School also contributing), so please get in touch if you or your company can help.

On behalf of OWFC we wish Andy Parkinson and the boys the best of luck for this final and salute the fantastic achievement.

Your mental health is important to you – and everyone else – so keep it safe

Coronavirus/Covid 19 continues to dominate the news headlines and when its existence eventually became recognised by the government back in March, some predicted that it would last until Christmas, an approach which many found pessimistic but now might seem the height of optimism

The Club has acted accordingly and with diligence and, on the whole, most people are adhering to the rules and regulations, for which many thanks, whilst those who do not should be reminded they are putting others at risk

Football has now replaced cricket as far as the use of the main playing area at Hayes is concerned, whilst those hardy members of the Tennis and Squash and Racket ball clubs play all the year round, although the latter are about to have under-floor heating installed, which is somewhat whimpish, and the Netball Club are on a recruitment drive.

The Tennis Club recently had a mixed doubles competition in which the combined ages of the winners was just 26 but, on the other end of the age scale, yours truly scored a game of cricket against Bexley in which the combined ages of the two scorers was 155, and I was the youngest – honest

Old Wilsonian lunches (OWLS) began again in September, but as the kitchen is still out of bounds fish and chips – and the occasional battered sausage - has been the repast whilst the Old Wilsonian gardening club continues to meet on a monthly basis and I'm sure you have all noticed the fine display of pansies they planted recently, so please resist the temptation to stub your cigarettes out in them

The Football Club have won their first trophy of the season when they defeated Arts Network on October 4th to become the first ever winners of the 'Kirk Benjamin Memorial Trophy', more of which later, and the main topic of 'Pikey's Progress' this month is the effect that the pandemic has had on mental health, an illness which, sadly, cost Kirk his life

The day after the aforementioned game I attended the funeral of the wife of an Old Wilsonian which was held in Maidstone. She had been bravely fighting cancer but it ultimately got the better of her a little over three months before her 80th birthday

She told me shortly before her death that she had had a good life, which she certainly deserved, and the tributes paid to her, by her eldest son and two of her grand-children at her funeral, captured the love and affection which we all felt for her

I had travelled to Maidstone by train from Bromley South and, of course, needed to complete the return journey only to discover that the train had been delayed 'because of trespassers on the line' and, as an added consequence , would now not stop at all stations on its journey to Victoria, including Bromley South. We have probably all been in this position at some time or another and cursed the perpetrators and muttered something along the lines of: "Probably kids; have they no respect for others and the inconvenience they cause"

The delayed train duly arrived about 20 minutes late and most of the other passengers on the platform boarded it and I took comfort in the fact that the next one would definitely stop at Bromley South . The guard, having seen the train depart safely, spotted me and asked/assumed the train was not stopping at the station I required"No", I responded, "I'm going to Bromley South"

He then explained that the reason for the delay had been someone throwing themselves off a bridge in front of a train . "It happens all the time", he emphasised

"It's the biggest cause of death in young men and, on average, 12 people a day commit suicide and the numbers are increasing as a consequence of this pandemic" I rejoined, and we both insisted that we both took care and stayed safe

I did, of course, arrive home safely and the inconvenience was minimal, but my initial response was unfair, so if you hear that there have been trespassers on the line and get angry over the fact that your journey will take a little longer than you anticipated then please think twice before concluding that 'inconsiderate kids' is the reason

In his essential regular OW round-ups Alex Forbes always adds a link to a piece I wrote about mental health nearly two years ago following a Super Vets game against Arts Network which took place long before Kirk's death and, indeed, that of one of our junior football coaches who was also taken from us in such a cruel way

The OWs have been great supporters of Arts Network, which has been helping those with severe and enduring mental health issues since 1996, for many years and for which I thank them sincerely and are also keen to help those with such problems per se to the extent that we have trained people who can help you

It is not a sign of weakness to ask for such help – quite the reverse in fact – and in these difficult times even more so

Mental health problems affect one in four people and it is no respecter of their circumstances – for examples please re-read my original piece – and it is incumbent upon us all to help each other, so make sure you ask for help when it is needed and offer it if you can. Believe me, you will benefit either way

As for the game itself, "one of the most enjoyable I have played in", claimed Stuart Paton, who has played over 600 games for the Club, it ended in a 4-1 victory to the OWs who thereby become the first ever winners of the 'Kirk Benjamin Memorial trophy, ' a full report of which will appear in the Football Club's excellent weekly newsletter

To end on a lighter note I see a German football team recently lost 37-0 after fielding only seven players in order to remain socially distanced because their opposition had previously come into contact with an opponent with Covid 19 "We observed the social distancing rules, keeping two metres between ourselves and our opponents," explained their co-chair, "and, as a consequence, they scored almost every two minutes"

Now, I think I've got this right. If I want to shoot birds with a camera I must be in a group with no more than six, but if I shoot them with a gun then the group can increase to 30? Seems a bit unfair on the birds

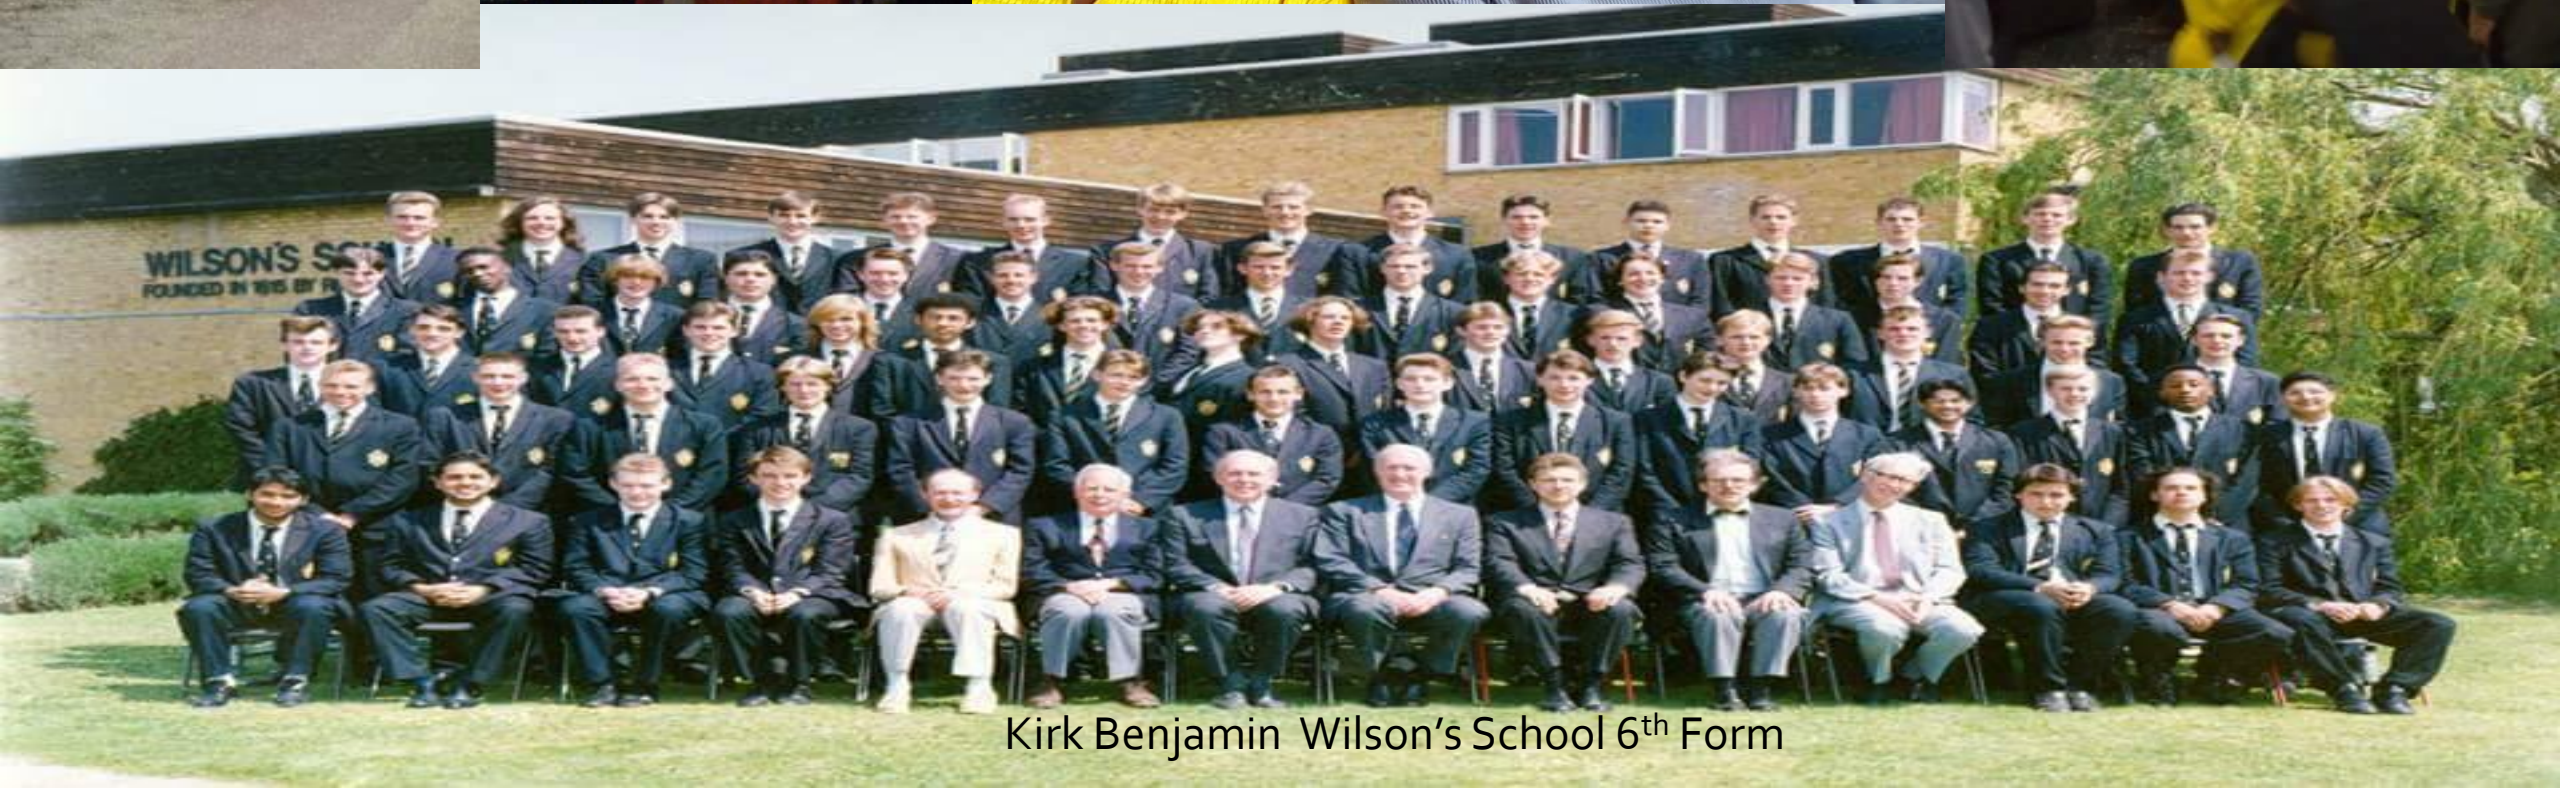

Stay safe everyone* AND ASK FOR HELP IF YOU NEED IT, *both for your sake and for those who care, and that is ALL OF US Mike Pike October 2020

OWS WIN THE KIRK BENJAMIN MEMORIAL TROPHY

Super Vets 4
Arts Network 1
P. (Oct 4th)

The Super Vets started their season in the most poignant of ways as they played Arts Network for the Kirk Benjamin Memorial Trophy, a fitting tribute to a man who had played for the OWs in this popular fixture and which has raised funds for this admiral charity which has helped so many of those with severe and enduring mental health issues since its inception in 1996

Rain had started to fall continuously on Friday morning and throughout that day and night and again on Saturday and at 7-53 on Sunday morning I received an email from Matthew Couper, the player-manager of our opponents, asking if the game was still on

A 'phone call to Stephen Millward, our indefatigable ground manager was made

"Sorry to call you so early, Stephen", and he informed me that he was just about to make a ground inspection and 20 minutes later I made another call to be told,

"Yes, the pitch is playable but it is still raining so I cannot guarantee that the position will not have changed by 10-00 a.m. "

I then called Matthew who seemed to be pleased to hear that the go-ahead had been given, although perhaps I read too much into his revelation that "Michelangelo has cried off because he is painting his ceiling, Tracey Emin claims she is going to make her bed and Van Gough must have mss-heard me because he thought the game was yesterday and not today"

On arrival at Hayes Alex Forbes busily instructed his team to

"Take a shirt and keep it for the season" but seemed to under-estimate the size of his team-mates and how he ever expected any of them to get into a shirt labelled 'medium' only he will know

"I've got a few 'small' ones", he proclaimed, "but you'll have to be quick as they are at a premium"

Meanwhile, at the reality end of this operation, Doug Smart searched in vain for an extra, extra, extra, large garment to cover his inelegant torso

The rain continued to fall but the pitch looked in pristine condition and an entertaining game ensued, which was played in the most sporting of spirits and in the true ethos of Super Vets football

"I only awarded two fouls all game", informed super referee Phil Gilmore, who not only refused payment for officiating but also contributed to the charitable donation to Arts Network after the game

The side contained two Billings, two Forbes, two Smarts, a Detective Inspector, a Pope, a Mace, an Archdeacon, a Prime Minister and a Dead man(sic) plus a number who looked to be barely alive

(Now, come on, you're just being silly; why not just write about the game?)

As Stu' Paton has already stated, in last week's newsletter, "I must say, after 40 years at the club, the game was one of the most enjoyable I have played in" and it was fairly even until RICHARD SMART headed home a good left-wing cross to break the deadlock whilst skipper MARK POPE volleyed home from outside the box to give the home side a 2-0 cushion at half-time

Arts Network's half-time team talk concentrated on bringing their No.5 (Picasso) more into the game and his deft touches, and immaculate brush strokes, kept the Super Vets defence at full strength and they did well to combat this determined onslaught, after which they gradually got themselves back into the game and doubled their lead thanks to goals from the ever alert RICHARD SMART and JOHN QUINTON who demonstrated, yet again, why they have scored so many goals between them over long and distinguished careers to end the game as a contest

However, the visitors never failed in their determination to get on the score-sheet and were rewarded with virtually the last kick of the game when Picasso hit the post only for Turner, or was it Constable, to tap home for a well-deserved consolation goal

So the OWs win their first trophy of the season, Kirk was remembered in a way he would have loved and Arts Network raised some much needed funds to help their invaluable work.

4/10 Super Vets v Arts Network London, Won 4 – 1, Kirk Benjamin Memorial Trophy. Smart R 2, Pope, Quinton

1s v School , Home, Won 3 – 1

After a slow start to the season the first team had an opportunity to iron things out and put in a good performance with a friendly against the school. A few late drop outs meant the team were down to the bare 11 and that was exposed early doors when Serge was forced off after just 5 minutes after tweaking his other hamstring. Time for some yoga classes I think mate. Syd stepped in from the 2s and slotted straight in.

Wilsons dominated the play from the start moving the ball around the pitch well and working the school from side to side. Despite the good possession not too many chances were created in the opening 20 mins, and the school took advantage with a very naughty freekick from 25 yards. Some might say Ronaldo esque, but it would have been nice if Powelly at least made an effort to save it.

Given results from the last few weeks a reaction was needed and it came from all the boys. The tempo was raised and chances started to come from the left flank with Ben & Kara exposing the right back, who didn't get much help from his midfielder to be fair to him. A peach of a cross from Kara fell to Sitch just 3 yards out, not sure if he didn't fancy a tap in but he decided to clear it out. Another move down the left from Ben & Kara saw a delivery from the latter on a plate for Robinson who headed it down and onto the bar. Another sitter went missing and it started to look like it might be one of those days.

Then some good link up play from the front 2 saw Ben Giles Gilo turn and use that pace of his before slotting an uncharacteristically delicate dink finish over the keeper. More of that please.

The first half ended 1-1 and in the second half Wilsons continued to put pressure on the school goal. Before long a penalty was awarded after a loose challenge on Ollie Sitch, who stepped up and calmly slotted home.

Wilsons then looked to finish the game off and some lovely play from Kara saw him nutmeg one of his students, before whipping it across for Ben Carruthers to finish. Sure the lad will be getting bantered for that this week.

Wilsons kept up the pressure but the game finished 3-1. A good performance with plenty of positives to take into the league game next week.

3s v The School, Won 6 -1
Report to follow..

5s v School 6s, Home, Lost 2 - 3

The 5s welcomed the School 6's with talk before the game focusing on the objective of getting the boys to play for the club and therefore ensuring the score did not get out of hand. 20 mins into the game it looked like the pre-game talk had perhaps worked a bit too well as the 5s had missed a handful of gilt-edge chances.

With 20 mins gone, the schoolboys took advantage of the 5s being temporarily reduced to 10 men showing their pace on the break to create a one on one, which their striker coolly dispatched passed the onrushing George Young in the 5s goal. After the goal, the pattern of play continued with the 5s creating chances and then duly missing them, however the schoolboys had been buoyed by the goal and posed a greater threat going forward.

At half time a slightly embarrassed 5th XI regrouped and reshuffled their 11 remaining players. The reshuffle paid off 5 minutes into the 2nd half as TYLER O'CALLAGHAN broke free one on one rounding the keeper and firing into an empty net to make it 1-1. With parity restored the 5s now pushed on to take the lead, however their wastefulness and the excellent schoolboy's keeper kept the scores level.

The schoolboys pace upfront continued to cause the 5s backline issues and as the 5s backed off a quickly taken shot from 25 yards by the schoolboy's midfielder found the bottom left-hand corner to regain the lead. As the 5s pushed forward determined not to be embarrassed an innocuous schoolboys goal kick was left to bounce and a lack of communication between defender and goalkeeper was pounced upon by the schoolboys forward who flicked a header over the onrushing 5s goalkeeper to make it 3-1. Safe to say that there would be no reprieve from embarrassment for the 5s.

As the game ticked on a ball into the schoolboy's box was met unsurprisingly by a schoolboy hand and the referee pointed to the spot. Up stepped GARY BONSELS to dispatch the penalty making it 3-2 and giving the 5s 3 mins to chase an equalizer. It wasn't to be as the schoolboy's keeper snuffed out one final attack to hand the schoolboys an unlikely but well deserved 3-2 win.

All in all, a well-tempered game, which hopefully the schoolboys enjoyed more than the 5s and will encourage them to get involved with the club

Together we Dive

Good pitch at the HSBC ground. We were made to sweat a little with Sparrow turning up 15 minutes late. The opposition and ref were generous enough waiting (un)til our keeper had arrived.

A few minutes into the game and a generous penalty was awarded to HSBC, for very little contact, if any. It was dubious. Once that penalty was slotted away, we did not find out rhythm.

The opposition pinged long balls over our defence and our communication was poor leading to a one on one situations. Quickly we found ourselves two down.

We regrouped and started playing our way, short passes from the back allowing us to launch quick moves up top. It was indeed that method that allowed us to grab one back with STRONG found by Kennedy in the box, allowing him to stab home the ball at his second attempt with about four defenders on the goal line.

That was short lives (ed) however as we did not learn from our mistakes and a few more balls over the top led to difficult situation and two further goals conceded. There was even time for a few more penalty calls but clearly the ref could see repeated attempts of playing for a penalty.

The less said about the second half the better. We played good football worked out from the back however at 4-1 down it was always going to be a struggle. We managed to get the ball down, into the box, a few crosses but we didn't have the men to transition from defence to attack quick enough in order to score.

We found ourselves 8-1 down when a goal which will go down in OWFC history occurred. PATEL, playing his 100 and something game managed to get his first goal for the club (no player has gone over 100 games without a goal). Had it not been for for the fact that he works for HSBC and we were 8-1 down he would have celebrated by running across to the other side of the pitch. Despite that nugget, we lost 9-2.

The team persevered however. Kept playing football. Short passes from the back and quick spreads out to the wing. It's just a shame we couldn't get that final chance at the end of the many moves. We were punished for poor communication at the back and something we will need to work on over the coming weeks. You win some, you lose some. There is nothing new or different about that.

ALL OUR YESTERDAYS - 25 YEARS AGO

I'VE SEEN THE FUTURE AND IT LOOKS GOOD 3rd XI 2 The School 0

The afternoon got off to a bad start for the Old Boys, finding themselves with nine men half an hour before kick-off due to some organisational cock-ups. Fortunately, my 14 year old son had come along to watch and was pressed into service and played at right-back, still one player short but at least we had made it to ten.

From the kick-off the Old Boys found themselves under pressure, the problem being the School kept running but we did not, and things were not helped when Nick Bier twisted his ankle, forcing him to go off for a while and eventually returning in a limited attacking role

The OWs survived several scares, including an excellent free-kick that hit the bar and also the School's left-winger shooting over the top from inside the six yard box. However, from a Dave Valder free-kick on the right JOHN QUINTON scored with an excellent header so at half-time it was 1-0 to the 3rd XI

On the re-start the School obviously felt they could still take this game. However, the Old Boys started making the ball do the work, with lots of passing to feet, slowing the game down then making a longer pass to hit the School on the break

It was from one of these breaks that JOHN QUINTON took on two players and scored our second goal. This spurred the School on to more effort, the game ending with a spell of about seven successive corners for the visitors

An excellent game, played in a great spirit, followed by a good evening of entertainment in the form of bottle walking etc. Speaking to the boys afterwards they all said how much they enjoyed the game and I know we have secured several more young players as a result

It was particularly pleasing for me, as Club captain, to see how many people were making the effort to talk to the schoolboys, parents and teachers. Well done to everyone and let's hope this is something of a turning point in our relationship with the School.

PLAY TO THE WHISTLE Ist Xl 2 Old Esthamians 3

The 1st Xl were soon one up against the League champions when CHRIS THRELFALL converted a penalty when the goal-keeper, fearing a broken hand, allowed the ball to enter the net., but Esthamians soon equalised from a corner when we insisted on marking space and not men. The opposition were considerably taller than ourselves but I do not feel this is sufficient excuse for forgetting the basic essentials of marking. And this slackness allows the opponent to concentrate on the ball without hindrance or challenge

The second Esthamian goal was reputed, by our defence, to have been offside – so what! Was that sufficient reason to just stand and watch their goal-keeper left to the mercy of an attacker with the ball fully under control? Referees are human, liable to mistakes, the same as all of us, so play to the whistle and the whistle only

Esthamians then consolidated their position with a third goal but JAMIE JENNINGS brought the 1st's back into the game when he shot home from the edge of the box

This was an extremely creditable performance by the 1st Xl. Mike Kendrick gave a faultless performance, although he should have chased the opposition's forward when the supposed offside goal occurred. Chris Threlfall gave the supporters a wonderful display of close control, with some excellent cross field passes thrown in for good measure. Dave Cohen showed great determination whilst Geoff Robinson was as reliable as ever. Les Simner –alias Alan Ball – gave a display of guts, action, control and unselfish effort which deserved greater rewards than was actually achieved

The 1st Xl have an excellent chance of establishing themselves as permanent members of Division One, and the way in which they regarded Esthamians as equals must make future opponents wary of assuming Old Wilsonians an easy means of acquiring two points Bill Morley

Postscript from the skipper, Terry Adams

A team-talk 35 minutes before the game started put this match in the right perspective and the manner in which the side set about their task showed that it was not time wasted. This was a fine performance against a well drilled side. The game itself could have swung our way, despite one or two defensive errors, and the second half, particularly, was so finely balanced that the difference between the teams was minimal.

To Chris Threlfall goes my accolade of 'man of the match.' He put in 100% effort, skill and more. To the midfield men I say 'thank you' for making such a fine game of it, and to the back four congratulations on a sturdy display and by adding a more dexterous edge to our attacking play I can only suggest that favourable results will soon come our way
